

LOVE DEBATE? LOVE WRITING? CREATIVE THINKER? SEEKING SUMMER INTERN

ABOUT KYP: The Kelly Yang Project is the premier after school writing program in Hong Kong, with over 12 different classes for students ages 4-17. Launched at Hong Kong International School in 2005, we are dedicated to inspiring students to become creative thinkers and exceptional writers. We offer creative thinking and critical reasoning classes designed to improve student writing in two ways—creative writing and expository writing. Our annual Spellbulary contest is a celebration of spelling and vocabulary for students of all ages. We are also proud to publish the student newspaper, The Idea Burger Times, the first ever newspaper devoted entirely to student writing, written by students, for students, on topics students enjoy. Now in our third year, we are rapidly expanding due to overwhelming demand and popularity.

THE KYP STORY: Our founder and principal teacher, Kelly Yang, is one of the youngest graduates of Harvard Law School and UC Berkeley. Kelly is the author of two books of creative and inspirational stories. Upon finishing HLS, Kelly launched her project in Hong Kong with the mission of bringing creative liberal arts education to Asia. In September 2005, Kelly started the very first KYP class at HKIS. It was a roaring success and KYP expanded to schools such as Chinese International School, Diocesan Boy's School, and Island School. In September 2006, KYP established its center in Central, Hong Kong. Since then, it has grown to include over 100 students, three teachers, and one office manager. Our teachers teach with a captivating passion and a true love for thinking, writing, learning and exploring life!
